

ZIMMERMAN SCHOOL OF ADVERTISING & MASS COMMUNICATIONS SCHOLARSHIPS

2017-2018

The Zimmerman School of Advertising & Mass Communications would like to announce the student scholarships that are available for 2017-2018. Most of these scholarships have been supplied by non-university organizations and individuals and are available only to students who have declared a major in mass communications, have completed at least six hours of mass communications courses at USF, are currently enrolled in mass communications courses at USF, and have a 3.0 overall GPA. The availability and amount of the scholarships listed are subject to change. Students should also check the school and university announcements about national, regional, state and university scholarship opportunities. In addition, scholarship information is available from the Office of Financial Aid.

Applications for these scholarships are available electronically on the School's website at <http://masscom.usf.edu/ug/scholarships.aspx>. The application deadline for scholarships is Wednesday, March 15, 2017, at 5 p.m. Recipients will be notified by Monday, April 3, 2017, and the specific scholarships awarded are announced at our annual banquet on April 20, 2017. The scholarships, paid into student accounts in Fall Semester 2017, include the following:
